DR. GORICAR, AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN REPRESENTATIVE HAS RESIGNED POST

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 12.—The published charges attributed to Dr. Joseph Goricar, former Austro-Hungarian consul at San Francisco, that Austrian consuls in the United States were working under the direction of Consul General von Nuber and Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, who are active in the propaganda for the destruction of munitions factories and in fomenting strikes among workers of the factories, was today referred by the State department to the Department of Justice for a full investigation.

In substance, Goricar is accredited with making the statement after he had resigned the post, after fifteen years in the Austrian consular service because he declined to be a spy.

He also charges that Commander Buratyn, an Austrian naval attaché at Washington, ordered him to get the plans of the fortifications of San Francisco harbor and along the Pacific coast, as well as the details of the work at Bremerton navy yards.

The Austrian embassy has denied the charges in toto.

SERBS DEFEAT BULGARS IN BORDER BATTLE

MAIN BODY OF SERBIAN ARMY IS SAID TO BE CAPTURED

BULLETIN.
(By Associated Press.)

Milan, Nov. 12.—Bulgarian and Serbian met in a bloody battle near the Serbian front today. The Bulgars were routed after losing heavily.

Milan, Nov. 12.—There is grave reason to fear that the main body of the Serbian army, which has been fighting the Germans and Bulgarians on the right wing, have been cut off between Krallero and Nish, says dispatches from a Serbian correspondent. Nothing has been heard from the Serbians in five days.

SECY OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE APPLAUDS ANTI-KNOCKER MOVEMENT

"Your boosting and anti-knocker movement looks mighty good to me," said Secretary Wenner of the Chamber of Commerce, to The Leader today. "A whole lot of our people have gotten into the knocking habit unconsciously and it was hard to get them straightened out as they had a grouse on much of the time and did not come out to any of the public meetings where their minds and their activities could be diverted into other channels. Your articles and the letters they are bringing forth from business men and citizens has brought them to a realization of the harm they were doing

UNITED STATES POST OFFICE.

Guthrie, November 11th, 1915.
To the Editor of The Daily Leader:
No truer saying ever existed than the old adage—"It's an ill bird that belies its own nest." The first duty a man owes to himself is to his neighbors, and the town he lives in, is to speak well of them. If he does that, it is not necessary for him to speak well of himself. Everybody will know that he is a good fellow.
Believing as I do that Guthrie contains more good fellows than any other town on earth, regardless of size, it does me good to see a few of the more enterprising of them lead off in a campaign, through the columns of The Leader for a greater Guthrie, and I hasten to contribute my mite toward this much desired end.
The great need of Guthrie today, is not for the things we now have in plenty—all good in their way, but for the things we have not got—but need in order to utilize the things we have. In order to build a city great or small, you must have first people, then trade enough to support the people and continue the growth of the town—in order to attract more people, and build more town. If that fails then all fails, no matter what else you may have, or may not have.
So it seems clear that the first need of Guthrie is business—then more business—and lastly still more business. In view of the fact that at no time in the history of this town, and in the history of the surrounding

ADVANTAGES OF THE UNIVERSITY.

Guthrie, Nov. 11, 1915.
To the Editor of The Leader:
Being comparatively a stranger in Guthrie, I hesitate to say anything about the town and its prospects, as they appear to me, thinking that those who have lived here for many years, and know more than I possibly can about local conditions are better qualified than I can be to judge as to its future. You have one asset here, however, which I have not seen mentioned in the letters which have been

BULGARS BALK AGAINST WAR ON THE SERBS

ONE BATTALION OF FERDINAND'S FORCES DISARMED FOR NON-ACTION

MANY ARE ORDERED EXECUTED ON FIELD

GERMANS AND ALLIES ADVANCING; HOLD THE ORIENT RAILWAY

London, Nov. 12.—Serious mutiny has broken out in the Bulgarian army and outbreaks have occurred in many cities, it is stated in a telegram from Bucharest today. At Bielograd, a whole battalion which had refused to go to the front was disarmed and half the soldiers were executed. At Philippopolis, Kustendil and Varna there have been similar defections. Many officers, as well as soldiers have been shot for refusing to fight against the Serbians.

Seven thousand Serbians and 50 cannons were taken by the Germans at Krusevac, says the German official report today. The report shows the occupation of Aleksandria by the Bulgarians and the further advance of the Germans south of Krusevac. These changes almost complete the closing of the gap north of Nish, on the Orient Railway, and practically places the entire railway in German hands. The Bulgarians have pushed forward southwest from Nish in the region of Loskovac, the first important station on the Salonika-Belgrade route.

Munitions for Turks.
The first consignment of munitions for Turkey, by way of the newly opened route by the Danube through Bulgaria, is on its way from Germany to Constantinople. This information is supplemented by the news that Turkish cavalry is operating with the Bulgarians in Southern Serbia, in the region of Prilip. Russia has 200,000 men massed near Rumania for descent on Bulgaria and is reported to have sent guns ahead by the Danube route.

Early Morning Fire.
The fire department made a fast run to 815 North Vine at 2 o'clock this morning, where a blaze had started, caused by combustion of oil. The damage was $35. The fire was extinguished by use of chemicals.

Urges Market For the Producer country, with the largest crop of agricultural products the country ever had, now safely secured or in process of being garnered for the waiting market, at prices all admit are exceptionally good. The way to get it is to bring every inducement to bear to cause the country producer to bring his crop to this town to market. And then see to it, that he gets the highest market price for his wares, and the lowest market price for our own. Do this and from that day on prosperity will be with us all. The pessimistic knocker will be cast down, and the optimistic booster will take his place. Remember, too, that it takes all kinds of people to make a city, just as it takes all kinds of people to make a world, and that no town or community that overlooks that important fact, ever gets very far in the way of any kind of progress.—Frank Olmsmith.

recently published by you, which it seems to me should by no means be overlooked, and that is the university. My home for several years has been at Salina, Kansas, where there is a Methodist University. Now, perhaps thirty years old; and I know that the business men of Salina regard this institution as one of the very best features of the town. It has brought many families to Salina to make it their home. The school was located on the open prairie about two miles from the bushy section, and here has grown up right around the university a community of fully 1,500 people, most of whom I presume, would never have located in Salina at all, had it not been for the school; and there are also many other families, living in other parts of the town, who are there for the same reason, and I think as time goes on, the same thing will take place in Guthrie, only in a greater degree, because this university has a larger field and there is prospect of a larger measure of growth and development than the Salina school has enjoyed. I believe that in the future, the influence of the university will be felt more and more, in the increase of property values and in the general prosperity of the business interests of the city. Aside from the material advantages, the moral and religious influence of such an institution can not be over-estimated, all of which helps to make Guthrie a good town in which to live. Respectfully yours, C. G. Bulkeley.

SHERWOOD-MIZE ELECTION CASE BEING HEARD

IN FOUR TOWNSHIPS MIZE MAKES NET GAIN OF TWENTY-TWO VOTES

Four townships, Springvale, Bear Creek, South Antelope and Guthrie, gave Claude Mize a net gain of 32 votes over Sheriff Wm. Sherwood in the recount of the ballots now going on in district court.

The contest was filed by Sherwood nearly a year ago, and was based on information given him that the returns were not correct in four townships in the county and four precincts in Guthrie city. Yesterday Judge Huston, after listening to extended arguments on both sides ordered the ballots recounted in the eight precincts named in the Mize petition. A cross petition by attorney for Sherwood set out alleged irregularities in the country precincts of Crescent 1 and 2, N. Cedar, Oakview, Marshall Rose Hill and Woodland. It is presumed that the ballots in these townships will also be ordered recounted.

The greatest discrepancy was shown in the recount of ballots in Springvale township, where Mize made a net gain of 14 votes. Wm. Erwin was inspector in this precinct.

BELIEVE IN GOD WITH HEADS, NOT WITH HEARTS

EVANGELIST SMILEY RAPS MEMBERSHIP OF CHURCH ON TRUST

The Thursday evening text for Dr. Smiley's sermon was Rom. 10:9, and its context. The central thought was the self-righteousness of the Jew. The man who depends on his own self for salvation must know that he must keep every one of the commandments, and if he breaks one he has no remedy in the intercessory work of Jesus. History is full of the records of the failures of man-made plans for salvation; man-made religions have strewn the path of time all the way down with their wrecks. The Jews depended on their own righteousness, self righteousness.

DEACONS FIRST TO BE GRABBED AT TULSA PROBE

MONEY GENERAL FREE- IS ON THE JOB AND IS EARNST

HEADS OF CHURCH PILLARS FIRST TO FALL

BIG BATCH INDICTMENTS MADE BY GRAND JURY; BUSINESS MEN FIRST

Tulsa, Nov. 12.—The first bomb shell of Attorney General S. Prince Freeling, in charge of the special grand jury's investigation of alleged unlawful conditions in Tulsa county, was thrown among several of the city's foremost business and churchmen, all of whom are accused either of being proprietors of gambling houses or places where liquor is sold, or both, or renting property for such unlawful practices.

When the smoke had cleared away restraining orders had been applied for and issued against the proprietors of the Metropolitan, Baltimore, and Central hotels, and a resort known as the Monarch, to enjoin them from gambling and selling liquors in the future.

The orders were forthcoming as the result of petitions filed earlier in the day and caused a furor among members of the so-called liberal element of the city.

In the first petition filed the names of Grant McCullough, one of the pillars of the First Presbyterian church; L. K. Cone, member of Trinity Episcopal church; Ben Green, C. H. Overton, Arthur Slavin, and Geo. Davis are set forth in connection with the Metropolitan hotel, situated at the intersection of West Second street and Boulder avenue.

McCullough and Cone are accused of leasing their property to the others for the purpose of operating gambling games and the sale of intoxicating liquor.

It was alleged in the petition that open gambling had been conducted almost continuously in this hotel since last July and that liquor was dispensed over a regulation bar at one end of the gambling room.

The charges in the cases of the other hotels and the Monarch were practically identical with those of the Metropolitan. In the case of the Baltimore the name of B. Bliss, member of the First Baptist church, appears with those of W. D. Moore, W. S. Holland and R. J. Allison.

In the case of the Central hotel, the names of Mrs. Mary D. Huff, of Sapulpa, J. T. Johns and B. H. McCullough are mentioned, while J. T. Taylor, James Moore and J. C. Kinney are the alleged proprietors of the Monarch.

The petitions urged the issuance of restraining orders not only against the owners of buildings and
